As we reflect on the past year, I am filled with immense pride and gratitude for the extraordinary strides Jewish Family Services of Silicon Valley has made in becoming a leading social services agency in Santa Clara County and the greater Bay Area.

This year, we finished in great standing with a budget of over $12 million. This budget increase reflects the expansion of our services, the number of lives we've impacted, additional staff, and the increased demands for enhanced infrastructure. While our budget grows, funders are very restrictive on how funds can be used, making fundraising a continued priority.

Planning is underway to create a strategy for sustainability and to clearly define who we are as the agency grows. As part of our strategic efforts, we moved to a new space in Los Gatos allowing us to better serve our expanding clientele and staff. The introduction of our L'dor V'dor Society endowment is a pivotal step in securing our financial future, ensuring that we can continue to provide vital services for generations to come. And we proudly named the Rick and Doris Davis Center for Aging and Caregiver Services, honoring Rick and Doris' leadership in the Jewish community and their dedication to addressing the needs of older adults and caregivers

Our relevance to the Jewish community remains a cornerstone of our identity while we broaden our services to reach a wider audience. We are committed to equipping all individuals and families with the tools and resources needed for well-being, self-sufficiency, and stability.

None of this would be possible without your unwavering support. Your contributions, whether through time, resources, or financial support, have been instrumental in our success. Together, we are making a tangible difference, ensuring JFS continues to offer hope and support to those who need it most.

Thank you for being an integral part of our journey.

Sincerely,

Susan Frazer, LCSW
President and CEO

Our Impact

Serving the community since 1978, JFS Silicon Valley provides comprehensive services to people of all backgrounds regardless of race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation or ability to pay. And, we continue to honor our original founding focus caring for those in the Jewish community who need assistance, especially the remaining treasured Holocaust survivors.

Our dedicated and diverse team of staff, volunteers, supporters and community partners unite under one mission: equipping individuals and families in our community with the tools and resources needed to achieve well-being, self-sufficiency and stability.

Older Adult and Caregiver Services Individuals served: 540

The Rick and Doris Davis Center for Aging and Caregiver Services provides a comprehensive menu of services and referrals for adults 60+ and their caregivers so they can live in their own homes safely with quality and dignity for as long as possible. Services include care management, home care services, home safety and fall prevention, food assistance, "Building Connections Community Groups" and friendly visitor volunteers.

Holocaust Survivor Services Individuals served: 250

JFS Silicon Valley is the only agency in Santa Clara County providing supportive services to Holocaust survivors and their families to assist in maintaining their financial, emotional and physical well-being.

Project NOAH Community Services Individuals and families served: 3,000

Project NOAH provides a safety net of case management, advocacy, referrals, and emergency assistance to people in the community facing a life crisis or ongoing challenge. Support programs include The Berkowitz Kosher Food Assistance Program, Embrace-A-Family Holiday Gift Program, Equipped to Learn Back-To-School Drive and Centerpieces for Tzedakah.

JFS Silicon Valley serves individuals and families including refugee clients in Santa Clara County and the greater Bay Area, including clients who have moved to Modesto, Turlock, Fremont, Hayward, Newark, and Monterey.

Refugee Services Individuals and families served: 700

A leading refugee resettlement agency in Northern California and the Western U.S., JFS Silicon Valley welcomes and helps refugees from around the world work toward self-sufficiency. Our comprehensive services include case management, assistance finding and furnishing permanent housing, English language training, career counseling and job placement support.

Volunteer Services

Volunteers are, and have always been, the heart of JFS Silicon Valley. Last year, 170 individuals volunteered 15,416 hours with the agency. A broad range of volunteer opportunities abound for individuals, kids, teens, families or groups, including ESL tutoring and teaching, friendly visitors for older adults, driving, moving and mentoring refugees, general office assistance, and support for food, back-to-school, and holiday gift programs.
